

Extended Studies & Workforce Education Division
Norwalk Community College
Special Security Officer Training
Public Safety Certificate Program

This course is designed to give individuals interested in a career in security or those already working in the field a realistic overview from a diverse and professional standpoint. Security requires many outstanding traits unique to the field and to individuals in order to be successful. Topics include:

- ♦ why this class is required and needed in today's industry
- ♦ security company concerns and their weaknesses
- ♦ traits of security professionals
- ♦ situations encountered by security officers
- ♦ today's industry topics and concerns
- ♦ career development and growth

The class is lecture based and includes exercises, class participation, and video/DVD examples. This class is designed as a more thorough "On the Job Training" course, providing more information than the basic and required state mandated certification class. This course is unique to Norwalk Community College as the majority of security companies do not provide this information or opportunity to learn and understand the industry from an "experience" practical level and academic environment.
